Summary

Client need:
Online education program

Solution:
iStream DRM

The AOSSM chose iStreamPlanet to secure and provide hosting services for select presentations that were digitized and captured at the live 2005 Annual Meeting. AOSSM members and non-members are given the opportunity to purchase the sessions online and review at their own pace. This online program serves as resource that orthopaedic sports medicine physicians can use for learning and reference for application in their practice.

“iStreamPlanet has provided media security and web hosting service that has allowed AOSSM the ability to offer an online program that is different than the standard CD/DVD’s that we have been offering and fits into the mission of the Society. The 2005 Annual meeting online program is a unique way to offer continuing medical education to the orthopedic sports medicine community. By offering this online program, it allows orthopaedic sports medicine physicians who could not attend the AOSSM 2005 Annual Meeting access to valuable educational material. We plan to continue to offer more online educational offerings in the future utilizing iStreamPlanet.”
